

Operation Costly But Worth It

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force lost three planes and one pilot, and many more planes and helicopters were damaged in the greatest rescue effort made in Vietnam, Air Force officers disclosed today.

But the costly, three-day operation achieved its goal, the rescue of a 27-year-old Navy flier trapped within a bristling complex of antiaircraft defenses.

A small armada of warplanes and helicopters flew 181 sorties to save Lt. Kenney D. Fields of Jacksonville, Fla.

"Those guys just never gave up," said Fields.

The massive operation began May 31, and parts of it are still under security wraps. It centered on a heavily defended road which cuts west from the North Vietnamese coast toward the Mu Gia Pass and the entrance to the Ho Chi Minh Trail just above the 17th parallel.

Flying an A7 Corsair jet, Fields took off from the American last Friday afternoon on the big carrier's first day of combat patrol off North Vietnam.

Boring into the target area half an hour later, the subsonic jet was hit by what appeared to be 37mm antiaircraft fire and went out of control. Fields popped his ejection seat and parachuted down.

"It was probably the worst place in the world to go down," one of the rescue officers said later. "The area was literally alive with troops and guns."

Fields, however, managed to land in a jungled spot surrounded by enemy positions but for the moment safe. His wingman in another Corsair began to circle the area until rescue helicopters could arrive, and he became the first casualty of the rescue.

His plane was hit by a burst of gunfire, and the pilot banked toward the coast 20 miles away. He barely made it and ejected into the sea near a heavily defended island. The chopper that rescued him returned to base full of bullet holes.

Meanwhile, propeller-driven Skyraiders were on the way to help Fields. They had been nearby, searching unsuccessfully for an Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilot who had gone down earlier and was never located.

As Fields gave instructions on his rescue radio, North Vietnamese gunners crisscrossed the sky with fire, the Skyraiders tried to find him.

JOE RHODES
Word has been received here of the death of Joe Rhodes, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rhodes, Paris, Texas, formerly of this area. The youth drowned near Paris.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Roden Funeral Home at Paris. The body will be returned to Nevada county where graveside services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at Pleasant Ridge Cemetery on Highway 19, near Prescott.

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, 67, president of the Lutheran Church in America for six years, died Thursday night of cancer. Dr. Fry resigned as head of the nation's largest body of Lutherans one week ago, for reasons of health. He was president of the 72-million-member Lutheran World Federation from 1957 to 1963.

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dean Meck Hoffman, 87, a press secretary to President Woodrow Wilson and a retired Pennsylvania newspaper executive, died Wednesday. He was editor in chief of the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot from 1920 until his retirement in 1950.

WR Would Re-submit Riots Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Wednesday that if re-elected he will re-introduce his riot control bill in the 1969 regular session of the legislature.

The governor also said he hopes another Association of Arkansas Counties fund bill is introduced.

Rockefeller said he hoped county judges and other officials will sponsor a bill to give the association a 1 per cent of tax turnbacks on which to operate.

The turnback bill was defeated in February when House Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock cast the deciding vote against it.

Rockefeller said he believed such an association could serve a good purpose in Arkansas and said "with a little more education, perhaps the legislature would pass it."

Rockefeller said he was aware the bill had been criticized in legislative circles and elsewhere as providing public funds for lobbying by the counties.

The governor's antiriot bill was defeated in the last special session of the legislature. He said copies of the bill would be distributed to law enforcement officers and others concerned with order when civil disorder or natural disaster threatened.

Rockefeller said existing laws were obsolete in dealing with some modern situations.

Negro and liberal interests viewed the antiriot bill as repressive and some believed the bill gave governors too much power.

Rockefeller, who said during the special session he wanted the bill amended down, said that state and local government

Explains Why He Stayed in Background

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Marlon Crank of Foreman said Thursday that he remained in the background during the recent special legislative session because he was a candidate for governor.

Crank, a Democratic candidate, said he explained to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that he wasn't in a position to sponsor administration legislation or take an active part in it.

"Had I attempted to spend a great deal of time on the floor, I think I would have been criticized as using it in my campaign," he said.

Rockefeller has said that Crank's absence from the House hurt his legislative program.

"I was absent, it's quite true," Crank said. "I had made commitments and it never occurred to me that the special session could have lasted over five days. I thought four days would be enough."

The session lasted nine days and Crank said he was absent part of the second week.

Crank said, however, he would have voted against the governor's proposed cigarette and other tobacco taxes, which failed. He said he couldn't recall any tax measure he would have voted for except the real property transfer tax.

Crank said he regarded it "foolish" to discuss "halfway" tax proposals without more information on anticipated revenues in the next biennium.

Crank said the impact of Medicaid had to be considered, which he said may cost the state as much as $15 million.

He said studies are under way to determine the scope and cost of the program. He said he hoped that Congress will amend the law to pick up a larger amount of the cost before the program takes effect in 1970.

Labor Will Interview Candidates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. Bill Becker, president of the Arkansas State AFL-CIO, said Thursday that the AFL-CIO's screening committee will start interviewing Arkansas political candidates next Thursday behind closed doors.

He said the Committee on Political Education (COPE) is scheduled to hear 30-minute speeches by all the candidates for governor June 15 at Hotel Marlon.

He said, however, that the committee had not heard from Democrats Bruce Bennett and Mrs. Virginia Johnson and Republican Sidney Roberts.

Becker said the Pine Tomato Festival at Warren conflicted with the June 15 session, because all the gubernatorial candidates have been invited to speak there at 2 p.m.

needed authority to act swiftly in the public interest.

Escapee Is Captured at Arkansas

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark. (AP) — Larry Hutcherson, 22, of Trumann, who escaped Wednesday from Cummins Prison Farm, was captured early today near Arkansas City.

Desha County Deputy Mickey Atkinson said he captured Hutcherson about four miles south of Arkansas City. Atkinson said Hutcherson offered no resistance.

Atkinson said Hutcherson was driving a pickup truck that had been stolen from a field near Arkansas City. He said he spotted the truck traveling south on a levee in the city limits. He said Hutcherson was not driving fast, but that it took four miles for him to get close enough to pull him over because of the gravel road.

Atkinson said he didn't know who Hutcherson was at first.

Hutcherson pleaded guilty March 14 in Polk County Circuit Court at Harrisburg to six charges, including three counts of assault with intent to kill. He was given more than 100 years in jail, but Circuit Judge John Mosby ordered him to serve several 21-year sentences concurrently.

The Continental profile, a classic in its own time, meaningfully refined for 1968

Both the prestigious Sedan and the elegant Coupé for 1968 continue in the timeless tradition of Lincoln Continental design . . . honored as a definitive in its field. Still, you will find, in the 1968 Continentals, numerous refinements and improvements—wrap-around parking lights and tail-lights, an all new instrument panel, new interiors, a smoother-shifting transmission, and a new, more formal roof line for the Coupé. Subtle refinements, to be sure, but each designed to make motoring in a Continental a uniquely pleasurable experience.

Again in 1968, each Lincoln Continental embraces virtually every luxury appointment you would expect in a motorcar of Continental's stature. Notwithstanding, Continental offers many desirable ultra-luxury options such as Tilt Steering Wheel, Automatic Speed Control and Six-way Power Seat.

Let us arrange a personal demonstration for you, during which you may become acquainted with the lasting pleasure and prestige awaiting you in the 1968 Lincoln Continental Sedan or Coupé.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE CANDY AND FLOWERS?
Dear Helen: These girls who think they have it made because they've become "equals" with boys — how dumb can they get? I was courted with candy and flowers. One of my fellows even wrote me romantic poems, and another — don't laugh — once serenaded me, while my father groaned. The men escorted us to their cars, and opened doors for us. They fought for us, if necessary. They protected us. But my daughter? Here comes her "guy," with "Hi, stupid, let's split," and he swats her rear as she opens the door for HIM. She uses her car half the time, paying for the gas. She goes "dutch" on dates, and sometimes she pays his way. If it came to a riot in the streets, I imagine she'd be in there swinging while he hid behind a lamp post. After they are married (if he ever gets around to it) she will continue working, and he already has an agreement and bank account.

Do you call this "equality"? — MOURNING DEAD CHIVALRY

Dear M.D.C.: No — stupidity! A girl gets the chivalry she expects, but only if she picks the right guy. Your "modern" daughter could do with some good old-fashioned mother-sense. — H.

Dear Helen: Am a 42-year-old mother of seven, living with my husband and very unhappy. He has beaten me several times, told me to leave, threatens to change names on insurance policies, says I'm in the way. But he won't provide money for support if the children and I move out. He says a lawyer can fix it so I'll be to blame.

One example of his mental cruelty: When the children are studying, he turns up TV so loud he can't hear anyone talk. I have no love for him.

About a year ago I met a very nice gentleman who is 20 years older than I am. He is married, but his family is grown. He wants to continue our friendship, and has offered me a good job. I feel happy with him, as I know he loves me.

Should I keep on with this romance or settle for the nothing life I have? — J.C.

Dear J: My files bulge with letters similar to yours. They're all so typical I can predict the last paragraph before I finish the first. When a woman spends pages describing her no-good louse of a husband, I could tell blindfolded, she's already picked out his replacement.

Must you gals go all out to justify yourselves? I'd be much more charitable if you straight-talked me with: "There's another man in my life; here's what I want to do . . ." and — in the last paragraph — "Here's why."

Possibly, J.C., Your marriage is hopeless, I wouldn't know, but a counsellor could help you find out. Make that effort before you leave.

All I can say is: You won't solve anything by taking on a lover who probably wouldn't marry you even if he could. Don't sour another woman's marriage just because YOU got a lemon.

A double life gets nothing but double trouble. What with seven children, I don't see how you'd have time for it. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star, Copyright, 1967, Inc.

wounds of the globe.

The decay of authority, permissiveness, the idea that if a person isn't satisfied with the way things are he can improve them by pulling a trigger against his enemy—these precepts are leading man along the piteous pathway of pathology.

"Would it help any if we all just gave up and surrendered to the kooks?" asked one depressed American.

Hardly. It never has helped in all history. Health, whether by a person or a people, is kept by a fightback against hurt and disillusion.

Today we will give you the South cards and let you assume that you are playing in the finals of a major championship event with one of the greatest players in the world sitting on your right. Just to make it a trifle more fair (or is it?) we are going to assume that you also are one of the world's best.

You make some effort to get to seven after your partner's jump raise of your spade response but settle for the small slam when you find one king is held by your opponents.

You are a trifle disappointed in the dummy because there are two potential losing tricks, but not too unhappy since you will have a chance to display your great skill. You can try the spade finesse and fall back on a possible club—diamond squeeze if it loses. But there is a better line of play. At trick two you lead a spade to your ace. The king falls to drop but both opponents have followed and you are ready to prepare an elimination play. You lead a club to dummy and ruff a third club. You cash your king of hearts and dummy's ace and ruff dummy's last club.

Now you play a low spade and are happy when West wins with the king. The spade finesse would not have worked if you had tried it.

You have stripped yourself of everything but trumps and diamonds and West must lead a diamond unless he wants to make the give-up play of letting you ruff a heart in one hand and discard a diamond from the other.

If the diamond honors are divided and West leads a low diamond you will pick up one honor and finesse for the other but West leads the jack of diamonds. He is perfectly capable of false-carding and leading jack from jack-queen, but he is equally capable of leading jack from jack and two small. You decide to stick to your original plan of playing for split honors and rise with dummy's king. Then you finesse against East's queen and sit back to listen to kibitzer applause.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The day that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy died became, through the intimacy of television, a long period of emotion, introspection and grief for millions of people.

From the moment early Thursday that press secretary Frank Mankiewicz, in a voice muted and tight with strain, announced that the 42-year-old presidential aspirant had succumbed to an assassin's bullet, the television networks carried the story in detail into countless American homes. And again, they performed magnificently, efficiently and—above all—with taste and respect for the bereavement of the Kennedy family.

NBC abandoned regular programming for the entire day and concentrated on the Kennedy tragedy. CBS and ABC returned to regular programming for some periods but were on deck for all the important, visual aspects of the period.

There was so much to be seen—so many faces, so much analysis and second-guessing, so many reminiscences, so many tributes—over the long hours that by the time the casket was carried into St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York and the great bronze doors closed, it actually seemed a relief.

But some of the sights and sounds will stand out in memory of a long time:

The hearse-led motorcade carrying the Kennedy group from the hospital to the Air Force jet at Los Angeles, followed all the way by TV camera-equipped helicopters.

Members of the Kennedy family joining hands around the casket on the lift that carried them up to the forward hatch of the plane.

The stoic composure of Ethel Kennedy who, surrounded by friends, nevertheless, seemed to be alone.

The quiet tractable crowds in both Los Angeles and New York.

David Brinkley closing his broadcast as the plane took off by saying with concealed anger, "There they go . . . Three widows of men murdered by political assassins," referring to Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., all on the plane.

While all three networks performed conscientiously and well, NBC must be singled out for special comment on two portions of its coverage.

During the hour before the arrival of the plane in New York, Washington correspondent Ray Scherer sat with three other close friends of the Kennedys for a warm and intimate talk about the New York senator, his wife and their way of life. They were comedian Jack Paar, columnist Art Buchwald and, most interesting of all, Rene Carpenter, wife of former astronaut Scott Carpenter.

They told anecdotes. They combined to explain the difference between the public Robert Kennedy and the private one, and they did it better than has been done before. They told of the fine relationship between the man and his wife.

Later, correspondent Sander Vanocur, who had been a passenger on the transcontinental trip, joined colleagues at the network's New York studio to report on the journey. He told how the family took turns sitting on the floor beside the casket.

There will be special coverage of St. Patrick's Cathedral today as Kennedy lies there, and on Saturday the three networks will devote practically the entire day to the funeral services in New York and the cortege and burial in Washington.

Gibson Hurls Cards to 9th Straight

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Gibson is having plenty of trouble trying to keep up with three youngsters on the St. Louis pitching staff, but the Cardinals are enjoying the competition—even if the rest of the National League isn't.

Gibson, long considered one of baseball's best pitchers, blanked the Houston Astros 4-0 on three hits Thursday night for St. Louis' ninth straight victory that put them 3½ games ahead of the field.

However, the gem only evened the 32-year-old Gibson's record at 5-5, still worse than Steve Carlton, 23 years old, at 7-1; Nelson Briles, 24, at 6-4; and Larry Jaster, 24, at 4-2.

Gibson lowered his earned run average to 1.52, still second to Jaster's 0.98. Carlton is 2.02 and Briles 2.33.

In the other National League night game, Don Sutton kept Los Angeles only 3½ games behind with a six-hitter that stopped the drooling Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2. In the afternoon, the New York Mets halted the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and San Francisco beat Philadelphia 7-2 on Jim Hart's two three-run homers to put the Giants and Phillies each ½ game.

Cincinnati and Atlanta, also ½ out, were not scheduled.

In the American League, Cleveland edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings, Detroit defeated Boston 5-3, Minnesota blanked the New York Yankees 2-0, California outslugged Baltimore 8-6 and Washington rimmed Oakland 4-3.

Gibson, who won last Sunday, was not supposed to pitch against Houston, but he volunteered when Dick Hughes came up with a tender arm. The Astros wish he had kept his mouth shut.

The hard-throwing right-hander, who returned from a leg injury last season in time to win his second Most Valuable Player honor in the World Series, completed St. Louis' four-game sweep in the Astros' win with little trouble. He allowed only one run past first base as he joined faster and Carlton with two victories during the streak.

Orlando Cepeda, Tim Lincecum and Lou Brock, off form his season after doing much of the hitting in the Cardinals' rout over the rest of the league last year, perked up for Gibson. Cepeda hit his seventh homer and singled in another run, Lincecum followed Cepeda's last with one of his own, No. 4, and Brock doubled and scored in Cepeda's single.

The Dodgers also swept disappointing Pittsburgh four straight as the Pirates managed only three runs in 37 innings and sank again into the cellar. Sutton, 3-5, gave up a run-scoring hit to Manny Jimenez in the first inning and Gene Alley's second homer in the sixth, but he dodged' attack more than overcame them.

Paul Popovich doubled off Ron Cline for two runs charged to Oser Tommie Sisk, 2-2, and Tom Haller and Bob Bailey each singled in runs.

The Mets completed their first series sweep—three games—since July, 1966, as Dick Selma, 4-0, became the first Met to win five games in a row. He needed help from Ron Taylor in the seventh, Ed Charles slammed two homers for three New York runs off Ken Holtzman, 4-4.

Hart's homers and six runs aided him the league's top home run hitter with 11 and among leaders in RBI with 29. They also helped Juan Marichal win his 10th game, tops in the majors, Marichal, who has lost nine, scattered seven hits.

Howard and Hansen Homer for Senators

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Galump . . . Galump . . . Galump.

The familiar sound of 6-foot-7, 260-pound Frank Howard tip-toeing around the bases was No. 1 on the American League hit parade in May when the big guy hammered 15 home runs.

Howard's tune is still getting plenty of play this month, but all of a sudden he's got company.

Home runs dominated four American League games Thursday with only Cleveland's 2-1, 11 inning victory over Chicago free of the long ball.

Howard and Ron Hansen homered for Washington's 4-3 victory over Oakland, Minnesota trimmed New York 2-0 on Tony Oliva's homer, Norm Cash and Jim Northrup homered, helping Detroit past Boston 5-3, and California stood off a three-homer barrage to defeat Baltimore 8-6.

In the National League, St. Louis blanked Houston 4-0, New York dropped Chicago 5-3, San Francisco whipped Philadelphia 7-2 and Los Angeles stopped Pittsburgh 4-2.

Howard socked his 22nd home run of the year and second in as many nights in the first inning against Oakland. An inning later, Hansen added his No. 5 as the Senators jumped to a 4-0 lead.

Frank Bertina worked five shutout innings with the bulge but the A's knocked him out in the sixth, scoring two runs on Mike Hersberger's pinch triple and three singles. Dennis Higgins pitched out of the jam and another in the seventh when he struck out Ted Kubiak and Rick Monday with the tying run on third base.

Oliva unloaded in the second inning against the Yankees after Harmon Killebrew had singled. That was enough for Dave Boswell and Al Worthington who combined for Minnesota's shutout.

The homer was Oliva's seventh of the year, and like Howard, his second in two days.

Boswell worked into the seventh inning but wilted in 93-degree heat and Worthington finished up.

Northrup connected for a two-run shot in the first inning for Detroit but the Red Sox bounced back with Carl Yastrzemski's ninth homer, a three-run shot.

Cash got those right back with a three-run homer in the third inning and Joe Spina held the margin for his first victory over the Sox since 1965. Fred Lasher came out of the bullpen to get the final out, fanning Elston Howard with the bases-loaded in the ninth.

Elrod Hendricks had driven in three runs with a homer and single as Baltimore took a 3-0 edge into the seventh inning against California. But the Angels erupted for seven runs on eight hits with doubles by Tom Satirano, Paul Schaal and Rick Reichardt the big blows. Don Mincher drove in two of the runs with a key single.

The Orioles came back with Don Buford's pinch homer and a two-run shot by Curt Blefary in the ninth but the rally fell short. Cleveland took its fourth straight one-run game from the White Sox and dumped Chicago into the American League basement.

Pinch hitter Vic Davallillo broke up this one in the 11th inning with a two-out single that scored Duke Sims from second. Sims had opened the inning with a walk and moved up on a sacrifice.

The Sox managed just four runs in 43 innings during the four games. They had just come off a sweep from Minnesota in which they won four games with just 10 runs.

Sports Will Pay Tribute to Kennedy

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The sports world will join the rest of the nation in paying tribute to the slain Sen. Robert F. Kennedy this weekend in the only way it can—by postponing some events and canceling others.

Affected sports include major and minor league baseball, thoroughbred and harness racing, boxing, auto racing and power boat racing. But all was not harmonious.

The New York Mets balked at playing baseball at all Saturday and said they would not show up for their scheduled game against the Giants in San Francisco. New York's Belmont Park will hold its Saturday racing program against the wishes of its board of trustees by order of the State Racing Commission.

Three major league baseball games scheduled for Saturday were postponed and none of the others will start until after the funeral. Two Sunday games also were put off. Today's schedule remains intact.

Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert ordered the postponement of Saturday games in Washington and New York and directed that the start of all other contests be delayed until after the burial.

Three games scheduled for the afternoon were changed to night contests. But the Chicago Cubs, whose Wrigley Field has no lights, were forced to postpone their game with Atlanta.

The Mets' players took two ballots Thursday and voted unanimously both times not to play Saturday. The Giants had scheduled Saturday as Bat Day, a club promotion, and a crowd of more than 30,000 was expected.

The Mets' front office backed up the players 100 per cent. Both M. Donald Grant, chairman of the board, and Johnny Murphy, vice president and general manager, said they were in complete sympathy with the Mets' players.

Under baseball law, the Giants can insist that the game be played and can claim a forfeit if the Mets fail to appear.

The Giants originally announced the game would be played at 4 p.m., PDT, instead of 1 p.m.

Elsewhere, the American Zone Davis Cup tennis final at Charlotte, N.C., between the United States and Ecuador will go on as scheduled. So will the Speedway Open Golf Tournament at Indianapolis, Ind.

Belmont Park canceled today's racing program, which included the 68th annual Grand National Steeplechase. The race will be run next Friday. Belmont wanted to cancel Saturday's card, as well.

The state gets about $500,000 in tax revenue from a normal Saturday at Belmont.

However, eight New York State tracks—two thoroughbred and six harness plants—canceled today's programs.

In California, where Sen. Kennedy was assassinated, the state commission ruled that Bay Meadows, Golden Gate Fields and Hollywood Park would operate today and Saturday.

The Emile Griffith-Andy Heilcan 12-round middleweight fight at Oakland was postponed from tonight to Tuesday night. The President's Cup Regatta, a Washington, D.C., fixture for hydroplanes, has been postponed indefinitely. It was scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

In auto racing, the Trans-American Sedan contest set for Sunday at Lexington, Ohio, has been postponed until the following Sunday.

The American Henley Regatta will be rowed as scheduled Saturday in Philadelphia.

Harding Star Ranks Among Favorites

HOUSTON (AP)—Harding College track star Jim Crawford ranks among the leading contenders in the mile run in the U.S. Track and Field Federation national championships which begin here today.

Crawford had covered the distance in 4:05.5. Two other entries have better times than Crawford—Bratt Woosley of Yank Gene Woodling after he Texas at 4:03.6 and Al Van Troba of the Abilene Track Club at 4:04.3.

Vaulters Will Be Looking for 18 Feet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eight of the top pole vaulters compete tonight in the Coliseum-Compton track and field meet, still looking for the world's first 18-foot vault.

The record shot from 15-9 to 17-7½, since the advent of the fiber glass pole.

But the vaulters themselves haven't been consistent this year at even 17 feet. The best of the group this year has been Bob Seagren of the University of Southern California with a vault of 17-6¾.

Seagren opposes two other 17-footers, Dick Rallsback of UCLA and Chris Papnicolaou of San Jose State, as well as five 16-footers, including John Pennel, who once held the world record at 17-6¼.

Pennel was injured last year and didn't compete. His best this year is 16-0.

That won't be the only close duel of the night. Almost every race and field event has a world class athlete.

The 100-meter dash has so many top sprinters it will be run in two heats with finals later in the evening. Long jumpers Bob Beamon and Ralph Boston are favored but two other 26-foot jumpers, Jerry Proctor and Gayle Hopkins, are good bets to upset.

Baseball heading into another expansion era and 24 clubs scheduled to play next season, the latest crop of high school and college graduates will have a chance for rapid advancement. A total of 641 players were drafted Thursday in 28 rounds. The draft continues today.

Foli, a 17-year-old shortstop from Notre Dame High School in Sherman Oaks, Calif.,—his home is Canoga Park, Calif.,—was the No. 1 pick Thursday in the annual spring harvest of young talent. Foli went to the New York Mets, who had first choice because of their 10th place finish in the National League last season.

The Oakland Athletics, who had earned the No. 2 selection by finishing last in the American League before they moved from Kansas City to Oakland, used their draft rights to take Pete Broberg, son of the former Dartmouth basketball great, Gus Broberg.

Although Broberg may be headed for his dad's alma mater, the A's hope to convince the 6-foot-3, 195-pound right-handed pitcher from Palm Beach, Fla., to play baseball in the summer while attending school.

Cott is a 17-year-old catcher from Hutchinson Tech in Buffalo, N.Y., who was drafted by the Houston Astros. Munson is a 21-year-old catcher from Canton, Ohio, who was recommended to the New York Yankees by ex-Crawford-Bratt Woosley of Yank Gene Woodling after he Texas at 4:03.6 and Al Van Troba of the Abilene Track Club at 4:04.3.

One of the most publicized high school players in the nation, Charlie Dudish of Avondale High in Decatur, Ga., was drafted by the San Francisco Giants for their Phoenix farm in the Class Triple A round.

Dudish is the target of a reported 200 colleges.

Australian Leads Play at Speedway

By PAUL PETROTTA
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Bruce Crampton of Australia carried a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $100,000 Speedway Open Golf Tournament.

Crampton rattled off four birdies on the back nine Thursday and finished with a four-under-par 68.

Billy Casper, PGA leading money winner, was tied for second with a 70 after being penalized two strokes when his caddy raked a sand trap before Casper hit on the third hole.

The efforts by Crampton and Casper, who played together, overshadowed the fine shooting of John Lively and Masters champion Bob Goalby.

Lively, 28, of Canton, Tex., shot a hole-in-one on the par 3 204-yard 17th hole, and Goalby fired his first double-eagle on the par 5 503-yard seventh hole.

Casper, Goalby and Lively were locked in a seven-way tie for second place with Speedway defending champ Frank Beard, Don Fairfield, Jim Grant and Bobby Cole.

Jack Tuthill, PGA tournament director, said a special service in memory of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will precede the tournament's final round Sunday. Players will wear black tabs on their clothes as part of the national day of mourning proclaimed by President Johnson.

Lively hit a three-iron that bounced on a bank in front of the green and rolled into the cup. He birdied the next hole with an 18-foot putt.

Goalby scored his double-eagle with a driver and a four-wood. Fairfield eagled the same hole with a 60-yard pitch shot.

Four Ball Meet at Hope Country Club

Hope Country Club's four-ball tournament will be played on Saturday and Sunday June 8-9.

The two-day meet has attracted some 64 teams or 128 players. Of the golfers entered some 81 are from other cities and towns including Lafayette, La., Dallas, Houston, Midland, Texas and five from Little Rock.

Spurs Come From Behind Over Travs

ARLINGTON, TEX. (AP) — Dallas-Fort Worth pushed across three runs in the sixth inning Thursday night and posted a 5-3 comeback triumph over Arkansas in a Texas League baseball game.

The Spurs played three singles, a walk, wild pitch, passed ball and Traveler throwing error for the three runs with the winning run scoring on pitcher Bob Watkins' single.

Danny Walton stroked his eighth homer for the Spurs, a solo blast in the second. Singles by Len Boyer and Sonny Ruberto produced two runs for the Travelers in the second and Arkansas took a 3-2 lead in the sixth when Chico Rivera scored on a wild pitch.

In other Texas League action Thursday, Amarillo beat El Paso 7-2, Memphis stopped Shreveport 4-3 and San Antonio swept a doubleheader from Albuquerque 5-4 and 2-1. The second game went 11 innings.

Memphis managed to salvage the final game of its three-game series with the Braves. The Blues scored three runs in the third on a wild pitch and Curtis Brown's double to left. Arkansas 020 001 000-3 6 1

State Pounds Long Island University

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Arkansas State clung to its hopes of winning the NCAA College Division national baseball title Thursday by unleashing a 16-hit attack in pounding Long Island University 10-3.

The Indians were set to meet Delta State of Mississippi at 1:30 p.m. today with the winner taking on unbeaten Chapman College of California tonight. Chapman, 2-0, is the only undefeated team in the double elimination tournament.

In the other game Thursday Chapman defeated Delta 3-0. Delta beat ASU in the opening round Wednesday 3-1.

LIU, ranked No. 1 in the final college division poll, jumped to a 2-0 lead over the Indians in the first inning but the Tribe rallied for a solo run in the second and a pair in the third to take the lead for good.

Shortstop Jim Wagner, who had only a .179 batting average going into the game, led the

High School Golf Meet Advances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — El Dorado, Sylvan Hills and Crawfordville swept to the team championships Thursday in the state high school golf tournament at Rebsamen Park.

Stuttgart's Bill Denman took medalist honors with a 2-under-par 140 total. He was the only player to break par.

El Dorado won the Class AAA title with a 295, three shots better than runner-up North Little Rock, Fort Smith Southside was third at 299, Fayetteville fourth at 303 and Little Rock Hall fifth at 305.

Sylvan Hills' 295 captured the Class AA title followed by Russellville at 301, Little Rock Catholic at 305, Searcy at 308 and Van Buren at 311.

Crawfordville won the Class A-B title with a 310. Fordyce was second at 311 while Fort Smith St. Anne's had 322, Gurdon 327 and Alma 334.

First Load of Peaches

This first truck load of peaches were loaded June 6 on the Jewell Moore place on Hope Rt. 2. They are early Dixie Reds. Last year the first load was May 27.

Gonzales All Set to Try to Turn Clock

PARIS (AP) — Pancho Gonzales, the old grey fox of tennis, was all ready today to try to turn the clock back 19 years and reach the final of the Open French Tennis Championships.

He faced Australia's Rod Laver, the world's top money-winning professional, in the semifinals.

The match was scheduled for Thursday but was postponed because of rain. Gonzales, resting his weary limbs after two strenuous matches the day before, didn't pretend to be sorry.

The 40-year-old veteran from Los Angeles last played in this tournament in 1949—and reached the semifinals. That year he turned professional and remained in the wilderness for 19 years, until open tennis brought him back.

The other semifinal, between Andres Gimeno of Spain and Ken Rosewall of Australia, tentatively got started Thursday but was stopped by rain with Gimeno leading 5-2 in the opening set.

Fielder of A-State on Star Team

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Outfielder Wayne Pitcock of Arkansas State was named today to the NCAA College Division All-America baseball team selected by the American Association of College Baseball Coaches.

Pitcock, who hit .314 for the Indians, was the only Arkansas player on the 20-man first team.

300 Athletes Entered in Track Meet

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Track and Field Federation's National Championship meet gets under way today with more than 300 athletes participating.

Teams favored to win the two-day meet are the Jayhawk Track Club, Prairie View A&M and the University of Texas. The Jayhawk Track Club is the pseudonym for the University of Kansas which won the Big Eight Championship several weeks ago.

Prairie View won the NAIA title last week to establish itself as one of the prime contenders and Texas' 12-man contingent will be headed by Dave Morton, the freshman quarter-miler who is the most celebrated performer in the meet.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

One Angry Citizen

Let Congress levy a tax on cats, and any cat owner could challenge the constitutionality of the law in the courtroom.

Ordinarily, no. The right to challenge the constitutionality of a law is limited to those who are directly involved. Unless you have some personal stake in the matter, you lack what the law calls "standing" to sue the government.

Why not let anybody sue? Partly because there might be a court-clogging flood of lawsuits. And partly because basic constitutional questions might be decided without the safeguard of having the arguments made by persons motivated by a real interest in the outcome.

What kind of a personal interest must you have to bring such a case? The most obvious kind is financial.

As a cat owner in the example above, you would have a direct interest — because the tax would come out of your pocketbook. Likewise, a property owner was held qualified to challenge a zoning law, because it would cut the dollar value of his land.

Even if your interest is not financial, it may still be weighty enough to justify a suit. Thus, a court allowed the complaint of two trolley riders against the government for permitting music on trolleys. Even though the music did not cost them any money, it could cost them valuable peace of mind.

On the other hand, your interest — financial or otherwise — won't support a suit if it is just too trivial. A taxpayer's attack on a federal appropriation bill was thrown out, because his stake in the total federal budget was held too tiny to really matter.

Nor can you ordinarily sue when your complaint is purely theoretical. In one case a motorist, although given only a mild sentence for drunk driving, challenged the validity of the state traffic law. He argued that, under this law, the judge could have imposed a sentence so harsh as to be "cruel and unusual."

But he got nowhere. The court said he had no standing to complain about what might have happened—but didn't.

QUICK QUIZ

BLONDIE

Q—How early was the moon photographed?
A—John William Draper took the first photograph in 1840. Though not impressive by later standards, it foreshadowed America's role in the development of photography and its use in astronomy.

Q—Has a U.S. vice president ever refused to sit with the Cabinet?
A—Yes, Vice President Charles G. Dawes declined although invited by President Coolidge to participate in Cabinet meetings.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

It Looks to GOD

Have you watched the face of the sunflower? It follows the sun all day so it will not lose one single ray... it looks to God, do you?
For such devotion the creative power of the sun blesses it with a tall, strong, sturdy stalk, with abundant beauty and fertility. Oh, that we could thus bask in the sunshine of God's grace and goodness!
The ordinary might then take on radiant meaning if we would but turn our eyes toward Him. Going to church would be much easier if all week long we would realize our kinship to deity.
The sunflower is a symbol of the rich harvest that fills the grainaries for bird and beast. But a place in Heaven awaits those who lose themselves in good service... those who keep their eyes fixed on God.

LEGAL NOTICE

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 53
(Legislative)
FOR A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO DESIGNATE THE COUNTY JUDGE OF EACH COUNTY AS THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER OF THE COUNTY, TO REVISE THE DUTIES OF THE COUNTY CLERK, AND TO AUTHORIZE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PRESERVE THE NUMBER OF JUSTICES OF THE PEACE TO BE ELECTED IN THE SEVERAL COUNTIES.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE House of Representatives of the State of Arkansas, and by the Senate, a majority of all the members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:

SECTION 1. That Section 28 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 28. (a) The county judge shall be the administrative officer of the county, and in his capacity as county administrator the county judge shall, in the manner provided by law, approve the disbursement of money for county purposes; supervise the construction, maintenance and improvement of county roads and bridges, county buildings and other county improvement; make contracts and execute orders on behalf of the county; and, perform such additional duties as administrative officer of the county as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall enact laws requiring each county judge to furnish a surety bond of a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this State, in such amount as may be determined by law, for the faithful performance and accounting of all duties imposed upon the county judge as county administrator. Any person aggrieved by any act or omission of the county judge, in his capacity as county administrator, may appeal to the circuit court of the county, and from the action of the circuit court may appeal to the Supreme Court.

(b) In addition to his duties as administrative officer of the county, the county judge shall be the judge of the county court. The county court shall have jurisdiction with respect to the internal improvement and new counties of the respective counties, except with respect to those duties of the county judge as the administrative officer of the county as provided in sub-section (a) of this section, as may be provided by law.

(c) Until otherwise provided by law, jurisdiction and duties of the county court, existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment, with respect to the bastardy, vagrancy, the apprenticeship of minors and the juvenile court shall be vested in and performed by the chancery court of the county, provided that the General Assembly may vest such duties or jurisdiction in such other courts or departments as may be provided by law."

SECTION 2. That Section 39 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 39. Every township shall elect at least two justices of the peace and such additional number, based on the number of electors in the township as may be provided by law. In determining the number of additional justices of the peace to be elected from each township, the General Assembly may classify the counties of the State into general population groups, with the number to be elected from each township to be based on the classification of the county."

MUG SHOT of the suspect in the shooting of Robert Kennedy was taken by Los Angeles police.

PROTECTED by police from assault by angry crowds, the man seized after the Kennedy shooting is hustled out of the Ambassador Hotel.

By JACK SCHREIBMAN
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The law takes its first major steps today to bring to trial the man accused of assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.
Dist. Atty. Evelle C. Younger said he would ask the Los Angeles County grand jury to return a first-degree murder indictment against Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian.
Younger said Sirhan would then be arraigned in person within 48 hours in Superior Court, make a plea at that time or shortly after, with trial expected to begin within 60 days from that time. Should the defense seek a change of venue, Younger said he would not oppose it.

The public defender's office is providing Sirhan legal advice.
The prisoner originally was held under $250,000 bond, but that was revoked by Superior Court Judge Joan Dempsey Klein after Kennedy's death. California law permits no bond in a murder case.

In addition to the murder indictment, Younger said he would ask five additional indictments in the wounding of five others who were in Kennedy's vicinity at 12:17 a.m. Wednesday morning at the Ambassador Hotel.

At that minute, with Kennedy joyous with the victory he had freshly scored in the California Democratic presidential primary, a tiny pellet of lead smashed into the brain of the 42-year-old senator who hoped to lead his country.

He died a little over 25 hours later. And nearly 12 hours after that his body, accompanied by his mourning family, was flown east to await honored burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

As the shock of Kennedy's death spread through the country and the world, the intense young man accused of the shooting sat in a bleak cubicle of three square yards in the county's main jail on Bouchet Street.

First details of Sirhan's imprisonment were disclosed Thursday by Sheriff Peter Pitchess.

Sirhan's grey-colored cell is on the second floor of the jail in an isolated wing with limited access. An unarmed deputy is constantly in the cell with him.

Outside the steel door with a built-in lock, another guard peers at all times through an unbreakable glass porthole in the door.

"We can get to him fast if we have to," Pitchess said. Flanking the corridor outside the cell, four other deputies remain alert. All the guards are picked men, Pitchess said.

Sirhan is in the medical section of the jail because he is under treatment for a broken index finger and a sprained ankle — injuries he suffered in his capture at the hotel. Sirhan has facial bruises as well from the arrest, Pitchess said.

Pitchess said Sirhan got a thorough medical examination when he was brought to county jail Wednesday morning after his Municipal Court arraignment on the original charges, attempted murder.

Sirhan is under the care of Dr. Marcus Crahan, jail medical director and also a psychiatrist. Asked whether Sirhan underwent psychiatric examination, Pitchess said yes.

KENNEDY BACKERS from the world of sports, Roosevelt Grier, left, 300-pound tackle for the Los Angeles Rams, and Rafer Johnson, former Olympic Decathlon champion, aided in the capture of Robert Kennedy's assailant and the weapon, a .22 caliber revolver, that sprayed eight bullets into the Kennedy party.

BURIAL TO

senator was to have expired Dec. 31, 1970.

Flags across the nation flew at half staff in memorial to Kennedy. And the presidential campaign in which he had played so active a part was temporarily interrupted out of respect for him.

Legislation authorizing Secret Service protection for all major presidential candidates was sped through Congress, and the House completed action on a crime-control bill which includes a ban on the mail-order sale of handguns. But President Johnson was asking for even tighter curbs on the traffic in firearms.

Under the shock of the second Kennedy assassination in less than five years, the Poor People's Campaign in Washington shifted its focus to urge a vast national educational program to end hatred and violence in America.

An autopsy report disclosed that Kennedy died of "a gunshot wound of the right mastoid penetrating the brain." Chief Medical Examiner Thomas T. Noguchi of Los Angeles said fragments of a .22-caliber bullet "reached about the center of the brain."

The presidential jetliner that brought Kennedy's body east from California also bore three women consigned to widowhood by the stealthy marksmanship of assassins.

There was Robert Kennedy's wife, Ethel, mother of his 10 children, expecting an 11th. She had been with her husband when he was shot, was beside him when he died. She left the plane erect, seemingly composed, managing even a fleeting smile at one point.

There was Mrs. John F. Kennedy, reliving the nightmare of a winter's flight nearly five years ago from Dallas to Washington beside the casket of her slain husband.

Finally, there was Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., who made the flight to LaGuardia Airport aboard the presidential 707 jet with the others. Less than two months ago Robert Kennedy had flown south to console her and to attend the funeral of her husband, shot down in Memphis, Tenn., by an assassin still at large.

The casket was in the forward part of the plane and members of the family took turns keeping vigil beside it—all except Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D Mass., last of the Kennedy brothers.

He refused to leave his post beside the body. About an hour from New York his head drooped and he slept.

But he took the casket off the plane at LaGuardia, assisted by Robert Kennedy's two eldest sons, Joseph, 15, and Robert Jr., about violence.

In an interview Higginbotham offered some thoughts on where the root causes of violence may be found.

"We have long-term, hard core problems of poverty and discrimination, which breeds lawlessness," he said. "And this is not a problem that was just discovered."

"It has been like an iceberg and now is surfacing and causing trouble that is visible in America."

Boggs said one major difference in the two probes is that the Eisenhower Commission undoubtedly will hold open hearings. The Warren Commission did not.

The Warren Commission's job essentially was to conduct a criminal investigation after Lee Harvey Oswald, arrested for the assassination of President Kennedy, was himself killed.

The over-all question Johnson asked when he announced establishment of the new commission was: "What in the nature of our people and the environment of our society makes possible such murder and such violence?"

Boggs said he thinks a highly professional staff, including sociologists, criminologists and psychologists will be needed even to plan an inquiry of such scope.

He said the inquiry should go into questions of violence in the mass media, not only television and motion pictures but "violence for violence's sake" in newspapers and other publications as well.

The effects of education, housing and other social conditions also should be explored, he added.

14. The body was born in a motorcade to St. Patrick's, where a crowd estimated by police at 8,500 waited outside in the street. Some had been there since mid-afternoon, and the hearse did not arrive until 9:48 p.m.

Inside the cathedral, waiting also, was Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, valiantly come to bid farewell to the third of the four sons she bore. Her first-born, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was killed in action in World War II.

All security has been beefed up at the concrete jail, mostly because of Sirhan's presence, some of it due to mailed and telephoned bomb threats—"at least a dozen"—against the life of Pitchess and department personnel.

"We are ignoring these," Pitchess said, adding that most of the calls came Thursday.

Within a mile or so of the jail, official activity was at fever pitch. Four news conferences were held at different times by the sheriff, district attorney, county coroner and Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

Yorty has aroused the ire of state and local legal authorities over his release of portions of Sirhan's notebook taken from his Pasadena apartment.

The officials expressed concern that the material might prejudice a fair trial. Yorty said Wednesday that Sirhan's notebook contained one entry about "the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

That is the date of the first anniversary of the Arab-Israeli war decisively won by Israel.

Younger told reporters the assassination was a great tragedy and would be a "greater tragedy . . . if successful prosecution of the person responsible for the terrible crime were jeopardized by statements prior to the trial commenting on evidentiary matters."

California Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch, saying he was concerned "over giving out information that might prejudice a fair trial," said that U.S. Supreme Court and California Supreme Court decisions severely limit what public officials can say.

Yorty told newsmen he had "exercised my judgment" in the matter, pointed out that he was a lawyer, and declared the trial would not be affected because the public had seen so much more on television.

Police said Thursday afternoon they had issued an all points bulletin for a white woman between 23 and 27 years old who reportedly was seen with Sirhan prior to the shooting. She was wearing a white dress with black polka dots. She was not named.

Inspector Peter Hagan added later, however, that the bulletin was only an informational one following a report from a young Kennedy campaign worker and was not for the purpose of arrest.

Some 56,000 fishermen visited Millwood Lake last week and this gives them an idea of what they could possibly catch. Actually this huge Alligator Gar was caught in Little River which feeds Millwood.

The monster was caught by J. G. Milliner and the late Elmo Dugan, both of Emmet, on Sept. 4 1952 near Allen's Ferry. Ten hours after it was caught and minus a couple of big hunks of meat cut out of one side, it weighed 240 pounds. The gar measured seven and one half feet from nose to tail. We suspect this really is the record for Arkansas but in those days few fishermen thought of records and this one was caught in a snag line. The same night the gar was caught the Emmet men hung and landed a 65 pound catfish and dozens of smaller ones.

'The Tower of Babel' Great Spy Story

THE TOWER OF BABEL, by Morris L. West, William Morrow & Co., Inc.

I bought my first television set last Christmas but, thanks to self-discipline, I haven't let it cut into my reading — I still do an average of two books a week . . . one Who-Dunnit and one hard-cover edition, generally a novel.

I got through "The Tower of Babel" in record time for a hard-cover. This is a novel, tough, realistic — a series of exciting spy adventures against the background of the Near East on the eve of the six-day war between Israel and the Arabs. It's the story of back-stage maneuvers that led up to the war, the book ending just before the fighting begins.

So it's an adventure with spies and border intrigue rather than a war book — done authoritatively by one of the world's master writers, Morris L. West, native Australian who specializes on the Asia Minor scene. Mr. West earned world-wide fame with "The Devil's Advocate" and "The Shoes of the Fisherman" — and "The Tower of Babel" is another prize in his fabulous collection of words and action.

This is the story of a Lebanese bank full of intrigue between the secret agents of Israel, Syria, Jordan, and Egypt. Nominally it is fiction. Historically it is true — with a double-barreled attack on the reader's interest and imagination.

There are two master spies in the story — one meets death, the other escapes although stripped of his family and wealth. It is a tense and fast-moving novel. You have to read the book to get the story's full effect — a great novel has something which the best motion picture or television transcript can't do justice to.

Washington Head Start Program

The Head Start program for the Washington School District will begin at the Lincoln School Monday Morning, June 10, at 8:00 a.m.

Three buses will provide transportation. The drivers are Trecce Floyd, Benny Stuart, and R. C. Taylor.

The summer school will start Wednesday morning, June 12, at 8:00.

Free lunches will be given all students in each program.

Warm, Humid Through Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas, which is under the controlling influences of a high pressure ridge, should continue to have warm, humid weather through Saturday.

The state is one the western side of the ridge and high southerly winds will continue to move warm moist gulf air into the area.

Pine Bluff, Little Rock and Walnut Ridge were the hottest spots in the state Thursday with readings of 91.

The forecast calls for fair to partly cloudy skies and continued warm temperatures through Saturday with isolated afternoon and early evening thundershowers.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 62 at Fayetteville to 71 at Pine Bluff. Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. ranged from a trace at El Dorado to 1.31 of an inch at Little Rock.

Voting Age Group Quits

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roy Lee Hight of Little Rock said Thursday that the Committee to Lower the Voting Age has been disbanded because of a lack of funds and failure to get enough persons interested in circulating petitions.

The committee was attempting to get enough signatures to get a proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 on the General Election ballot this year.

Saigon Hit Heaviest by Rockets

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon took its worst enemy bombardment of the last five weeks early today. The Viet Cong slammed in 16 rockets which killed 25 Vietnamese civilians and wounded another 43, military officers reported.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted the Viet Cong would continue its bombardment of the South Vietnamese capital "to grab headlines throughout the world by portraying a facade of aura of strength."

The outgoing commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam returned from Washington today.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced that the nightly barrage of 100-pound Russian rockets set fire to 27 houses today, destroying or damaging them. In terms of casualties and damage, it was the worst enemy shelling of Saigon since the Viet Cong began frequent bombardment of the capital 34 days ago in an apparent attempt to terrorize the population.

The barrage poured in a few hours before Westmoreland returned and some of the rockets landed close to his residence, to that of the top U.S. Navy commander and to the residence of the commander of South Korea's 48,000-man force in Vietnam.

While none of the commanders was hurt, nine houses were set on fire. At least 15 more were wounded and 15 more were wounded there.

Most of the rockets hit in the central part of the capital.

Sporadic street fighting continued in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese section, and in the northeastern suburb of Gia Dinh.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said government troops had killed 146 of the enemy and taken 23 prisoners during the past three days in Cholon. Government casualties were reported light.

The government also announced that since May 5, when the street fighting broke out in Saigon, government forces have killed 2,778 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers and captured 313, while government losses have been 245 men killed, 933 wounded and 26 missing.

U.S. infantrymen from the 25th Division killed 32 of the enemy nine miles north of Saigon. Four Americans were killed and 16 wounded in the battle that raged until this morning.

Average American Felt Human Disgust When Kennedy Was Shot

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody can criticize America more ably when an action of dismay wounds the nation's dreams than the American people themselves.

The average citizen felt a human disgust when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot down in Los Angeles while campaigning for the U.S. presidential nomination.

It was momentary individual and national frustration. Nobody on the American street gave a damn about what the world thought. He said, as an American, what he felt.

Each became himself, and fought against the dilapidation of the security of the way he wanted things to be. There was, at the beginning an escapism pattern.

"Where do you go when you want to resign from mankind?" "I want to go to an island where I can be all alone by myself."

"Oh, Christ, no, not again." "Oh, God, no, not again." "I need a vacation. How do you get out of this fouled-up country?"

It appeared from the initial reaction that there would be an exodus by those who feel that one way to get away from trouble is to go elsewhere.

But in the bedrock posture of person and mind among 200 million Americans there is no res-

British Feel Ted Will Eye Presidency

LONDON (AP) — British newspaper commentators predicted today that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will set his sights on the American presidency, carrying on the family tradition established by his two assassinated brothers.

British papers spread the 36-year-old Massachusetts senator's pictures across their pages and speculated on his chances of reaching the White House eventually.

"That he will now seek to carry on alone the political ambitions of the Kennedy family is regarded as certain," wrote Richard Scott of the Guardian.

"He has evoked none of the personal animosities which Bobby did," said Scott. "Whether he possesses Bobby's political acumen is perhaps not yet proven. His older brother, Jack, believed that he did."

"By now he has made a solid reputation for himself in the Senate as a modest, industrious and extremely well informed and well briefed member."

"He is more popular than Jack and Bobby ever were with his colleagues."

"Teddy is the longterm family contender for leadership of the world's most powerful nation," wrote Peter Youngusband in the Daily Mail.

"Teddy's most notable feature is a deep and appealing charm, and from it grows a relaxed attitude to his problems and to politics," the Mail correspondent said.

"Perhaps because of his operating style and personality Teddy has some contacts that Bobby lacked. He is the favorite Kennedy among powerful Southern senators."

Both Vincent Ryder of the Daily Telegraph and John Sampson of the Sun reported speculation in Washington that Kennedy might be offered the vice presidential nomination this year as a tribute to his brothers' memory.

cue by fleeing. If their nation is afire and in danger, they must stay at home, put out the fire, rescue it.

Never mind how damned by a smug outside world for its vices, the U.S. society has to reconsider and reimburse the virtues that must yet keep it alive, youthful, responsible, eager and dedicated to man's wistful hope of welfare.

Is America a "sick society," as antagonistic philosophers of democracy suggest. Yes, because we shoot down a young President, his aspiring-to-power brother, and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the brilliant Negro exponent of peace in the sunshine for those of all colors of skin and conditions of purse.

Yes, because, as our critics do not proclaim, mankind itself is ill wherever he dwells, here and elsewhere.

The universe is awry. Man around the world is absent from his brother's glory, abstaining from the comforting hand upon his shoulder.

Violence — though one of five of American's 200 million-plus people owns a gun — is not confined to the 50 states of the U.S. Union. Hate and avarice stand like poised vultures in the thoughts of men and their conduct throughout the wide

Delegates of Kennedy Uncertain

By WILLARD H. MOBLEY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy left in death more than 300 Democratic National Convention delegates, many of them unsure now of their choice for the presidential nomination.

These elected delegates had been bound to Kennedy by primary results, chosen on a pledge to back him or willing to state first-ballot intentions in an Associated Press poll.

But a check of state officials and party leaders Thursday produced no case where these bonds were considered extant now. A Democratic National Committee spokesman said there is no headquarters rule on the point.

In the AP tabulation, Kennedy had been credited with 274 1/2 such votes from 13 states and the District of Columbia.

In addition, he was due to get most or all of the 63 from Indiana, where he won a primary.

This total is about one-fourth of the 1,312 ballots required for victory in the convention opening in Chicago Aug. 26, Kennedy was known to have strength elsewhere that was not recorded publicly.

The first vote bloc declared free of Kennedy commitment was his biggest — the 174 from California where the assassin's volley convulsed his primary victory celebration.

Party headquarters, in response to inquiries, checked with California officials and said death severed the tie.

Indiana, Kennedy's second biggest bloc, is a special case due to a unique primary system.

The primary outcome governs the first-ballot vote from Indiana, but they are disembodied votes at that point, involving no actual persons who will cast them. The delegates who will do whatever is decided on will not be selected until the state convention June 21.

In South Dakota, where Kennedy won 26 votes by primary, there never was any real legal bond. Atty. Gen. Frank Farrar said. The delegates were only morally bound by running on a Kennedy state, he said.

In Iowa, where Kennedy had at least 18 and probably 28 pledged votes out of the total of 46 at a state convention, a poll was being conducted on where they will jump.

Kennedy backers predicted most of their Iowa people will go to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. In Ohio's big delegation of 115 there had considerable strength leaning toward Kennedy.

Violence Probe to Be Different

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only member of President Johnson's commission on violence who also served on the Warren Commission says the new investigation will be wholly different in scope and method from the probe into President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said in an interview Thursday "the mandate is certainly broader" for the probe of violence, which was launched after Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot in Los Angeles Wednesday.

Boggs is one of 10 prominent Americans on the new commission, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower. He outlined his views on the new probe but said there has been no discussions yet of organization or procedure.

U.S. District Judge A. Leon Higginbotham of Philadelphia, another of the commission appointees, commented Thursday that the nation "must not assume a posture of hopelessness"

Police Fight Strikers in France

By STEPHENS BROENING
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Steel-helmeted riot police and thousands of striking auto workers battled with paving stones and tear gas grenades today at the Renault auto plant at Flins, 15 miles northwest of Paris. Several hundred students from the University of Paris reinforced the strikers.

Elsewhere, France's strike wave was subsiding rapidly, and Frenchmen turned their attention to politics and a televised interview with President Charles de Gaulle tonight.

The Renault plant at Flins was occupied by police early Thursday, and the sit-in strikers who had held it for weeks were expelled.

The fighting began after a demonstration in the main square of the village. More than 5,000 demonstrators marched on the plant in an attempt to retake it from about 2,000 riot police.

Bible Class Plans Special Program

Plans have been completed for the special program Sunday in Century Bible Class of First Methodist Church to honor all past presidents of the class. Presiding will be President Don Johnson, invocation by Rev. Everett Vinson and special music by Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Burke and daughter Jan.

Past president Lyle Brown of Little Rock will introduce the other presidents there and past president Royce Welsenberger will introduce the teacher, Syvella Burke of Springhill, La., another past president.

Since the class was organized in 1946, there have been 36 presidents and it has been 10 years since all have been together in the classroom.

A short memorial service for the late C. W. Bridgers, the only deceased past president, will be conducted by Judge Brown. All members of the class are urged to attend Sunday morning and visitors are welcome.

Gun Measure Doesn't Burial to Go Far Enough, LBJ Declares to Congress

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, speaking in the wake of a new Kennedy assassination, has told Congress that "55 long months after the mail-order murder of President John F. Kennedy," it is time in the name of sanity for a tough gun-control law.

He served notice Thursday that a measure passed by both Senate and House and now on his desk doesn't go far enough because it bans the mail-order sales only of pistols. He wants the ban to apply to rifles and shotguns as well.

When it was in the Senate, such proponents of the tougher provision as Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., lost in their bid to include rifles and shotguns.

Two of Dodd's staunchest allies in that losing cause were Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, whose brother was assassinated with a mail-order rifle five years ago, and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, whose only surviving brother — Robert — was assassinated with a pistol two days ago.

"So, I call upon the Congress in the name of sanity, in the name of safety — and in the name of an aroused nation — to give America the gun-control law it needs," Johnson said.

The House passed the pistols-only provision Thursday and Johnson issued his statement shortly afterward. He did not indicate whether he would sign the provision.

Two congressmen urged him to veto it; another said he would propose next week a House vote on a measure to ban mail-order rifle and shotgun sales.

The only House vote this week on the issue concerned the pistols provision because that is the way the bill came from the Senate.

The gun-control proposal has been a matter of controversy on Capitol Hill for seven years but is only one of several controversial issues in the legislation sent to Johnson.

It is a sweeping crime-control bill that also would give police wiretapping and "bugging" powers regarding some suspects. Another provision is aimed at removing Supreme Court restrictions on police use of confessions.

Be Near Body of Brother

By ARTHUR EVERETT
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of persons from all walks of life filed past Robert F. Kennedy's body as it lay in state today before the main altar beneath the towering twin Gothic spires of St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue.

A crowd of about 1,000 persons, many of them teen-agers, was waiting in the gray dawn light when the massive doors to the old cathedral swung open at 5:41 a.m. Some had been waiting through the night.

In solemn and somber mood they filed by the dark red wood closed casket in final tribute to the 42-year-old Democratic senator who had aspired to be the second of his family to occupy the White House.

Many in the line were Negroes. There were also a number of nuns and two young couples who had attended a prom among the early crowd. Some of the mourners, particularly women, kissed the coffin and ran their fingers slowly across its polished surface as though reluctant to say a final farewell.

A candle burned at each corner of the catafalque as friends and relatives of the Kennedy family began a constant vigil, four at a time, in half-hour shifts, around the bier.

In the early hours of the night Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the sole surviving son of four in his family, had kept watch over his brother whose life was taken, as was the late President John F. Kennedy's, by an assassin's bullet.

The cathedral, a Manhattan landmark for 89 years, was closed to the public at 7 p.m. Thursday, while workmen on scaffolding prepared the great nave for Roman Catholic funeral services scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday.

Then Robert Kennedy's body will be taken by train to Washington, for burial at Arlington National Cemetery, where his brother, the late President Kennedy, rests beneath an eternal flame.

Robert Kennedy was shot down early Wednesday as he celebrated his California presidential primary victory at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. He died in Good Samaritan Hospital there at 4:44 a.m. EDT Thursday, his brain pierced to the core by bullet fragments.

Being held in the slaying is Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, a native of Jordan, said to have been inflamed by hatred of Israel. A former employer of Sirhan has suggested that Robert Kennedy's support of American aid for Israel could have been a factor in his assassination.

Los Angeles authorities also sought for questioning a young woman who wore a black and white polka dot dress, reportedly seen with Sirhan before the shooting. Inspector Peter Hagan said a youthful Kennedy campaign worker claimed to have seen such a woman run from the scene yelling, "We shot him!"
